

Believe
Jen and Claire

The time here was short
The memories everlasting
We came here searching
We leave here believing
Lost to ourselves
But found in each other
We came here forgotten
But we leave here together

Take my hand
As we take this walk
Forgive yourselves
As we forget the past
Live in the moment
And cherish the memory
Dance with a passion
And live with a purpose

Many roads we did travel
Yet destined to gather
Our paths did cross
Fallen victims to fate
Three strangers did meet
Torn by shame
Yet related by pain
Three hearts unite

Lost to the wild
But tamed by the innocent
Fallen to darkness
But created in light
Three lives collide
And friends unite

Enemies to the world
Allies to each other
Soldiers in arms

A band of brothers
Weak in self
But strength in numbers
Fighting for freedom
We stand together
Three souls connected
One war to fight

We came with nothing
Yet depart with each other
We came with a past
But now we have a future
We came not believing
Yet together were achieving
We came in alone
But now were a family
We came without a prayer
Yet God lead us together
Strangers to the world
Yet friends forever

This day had to come
For the battle here is done
Yet three friends depart
Lives forever changed
Hearts forever touched
Three soldiers now stand
We are united as one

Recovered in mind
Rekindled in spirit
Revived in life
Recreated in love
Resurrected by God
Three souls divide

Renewing ourselves
Rebuilding a future
We chart a different course

Yet travel the same path
Divided by land
And distant on earth
Separated by time
We travel apart

Destine by fate
Three strangers did meet
Reconnected in love
Related in pain
Worlds collide
Yet friends we divide

Lost to nothing
Created in each other
Three friends arise
Three lives unite
Bound for glory
Destine for conquest
Three strangers did meet
Yet one spirit we part
