

The Great Oaks

We walk separate paths
Yet share the same fate
Subjected to shame
Held hostage by pain
Broken by love
Shattered by trust
Trampled like dust
Shadows to the sun
Ghost to the night
Fallen victims of the past

Days lead to night
Yet we stay still
Frozen to time
Trapped in our mind
Prisoners of our body
Lost to reality
Disgraced by humanity
Exiled by society
Driven to insanity

A path not chosen
An evil hand was dealt
A journey to take
A life we must make
Cursed to fail
Destine to fall
We travel alone
Searching for acceptance
Fighting for existence

We walk separate paths
Yet share the same fate
Strangers to the world
Yet friends to each other
Distant from the body
Captive to the mind
Yet connected in spirit
United in love
We are lost to many
But alive in each other

We are one with The Great Oaks

The Great Oaks
A mystical land
Crafted for angels
Both ancient and divine
Created by God
Distant to the world
But delivered to us

A fortress nestled snug in a cove
The ground shielded by a canopy
Protected from the sun
Yet illuminated by light
This is our home
Our sanctuary
We are one with The Great Oaks

An empire has risen
Forged by God
Defended by knights
Protected for eternity
A war must wage
Stand together as one
Hand in hand
Heart to heart
We are soldiers of the oaks

Fighting for freedom
Battling for existence
Defending our honor
Protecting our land
This is our kingdom
These are our people
We are soldiers of the oaks

Do not fear tomorrow
Be at peace today
This journey we must take
Our hearts connected in fate
Our lives embraced in love
As our futures grow in the Oaks

Like seeds in the soil

Our paths have crossed
Destinies intertwined
Like roots in the dirt
Our lives eternally blessed
Spirits forever touched
Souls everlastingly connected
Like a sheep and its Sheppard
We are united in each other
As day transforms to night
We are one with The Great Oaks

Planted in Gods soil
We grow in the oaks
Destine for glory
Bound for victory
We will have recovery
Just remember
We are one with The Great Oaks

Our journey will end
But are legend will grow
Our kingdom will stand
As the land is defended
Our people will prosper
As our lives are protected
We are the soldiers of the Oaks
